

Please firstly contact the document recipient in China to confirm their acceptance of the consular authentication by the Chinese Embassy. Then the applicant should fill and sign the attached STATEMENT. The Chinese Embassy will contact the document recipient in China to verify and decide whether to process the authentication. The applicant will be informed after the authentication is finished.

I understand that starting from November 7, 2023, the Hague Convention has come into effect in China, and the Chinese Embassy and Consulates-General in the United States ceased the authentication service. However, after I verified with the document recipient in China, they confirmed their acceptance of the authentication by the Chinese Embassy even after November 7, 2023. Therefore, I insist on applying for the authentication from the Chinese Embassy and will take the risk that this document may not be accepted by certain Chinese authorities.
